

THE SAGACIOUS LINCOLN.

The Sacramento Bee says "Secretary Lincoln is winning the approbation of the people for the manly stand that he has taken in opposing the expenditure of the several items of appropriation for 'river and harbor improvement.' Recently the House of Representatives called upon him for information as to the amount of money left unexpended of last year's appropriation, and what objects provided in the bill are unworthy, and the Secretary's prompt and unequivocal reply rather staggered some persons. He says that on the 1st of next July about $6,000,000 will remain unexpended of the $18,700,000 appropriated. And then he proceeds to explain some of the 'unworthy objects' for which portions of this money is being sought to be used. He goes on to point out projects provided for in the appropriation (or for which it is sought to divert some of the items of the appropriation), which he declares cannot be justified on any ground of public utility or necessity. For instance, the sum of $5,000 was voted for 'improving' the harbor at New Buffalo, Mich., a so-called harbor which has no commerce. Cedar river, Mich., captured an appropriation of $15,000; it will require $138,000 to finish the project, and the river has no commerce, and only one sawmill, and the timber on its banks is nearly exhausted. The work on Elk river, W. Va., for which $2,000 was appropriated, will cost from $100,000 to $1,500,000; the commerce of the river consists of rafts of logs and canoes of produce. Chesapeake creek, Manassas river and Cohasset creek, in New Jersey, came in for their share in condemnation. In short, the Secretary has unearthed all the questionable items contained in the eighteen-million appropriation, one which the people would not begrudge if it were legitimately and honestly expended."

RIEPE'S RAILROAD COMMISSIONER'S BILL.

Assemblyman Riepe of Lincoln has introduced a bill (Assembly bill No. 12) to create a Board of Railroad Commissioners and to define their powers. This is modeled after the O'Connor bill of California, which became a law in 1876, and under which Gen. Stoneman was appointed one of the Commissioners by Gov. Irwin. The Riepe bill provides for the Commissioners, to be appointed by the Governor, a Secretary and a stenographer, the latter to be employed by the Board whenever his services shall be deemed necessary. The Commissioners are each to receive $2,400 for their services, the compensation of the Secretary to be $1,200 per annum, the salaries to be paid out of the General Fund. Three railroad districts are to be created, the first district to embrace Douglas, Storey, Washoe and Ormsby counties; the second consisting of Humboldt, Churchill, Esmeralda and Lyon counties; the third embracing Elko, Eureka, White Pine, Lincoln and Nye counties. The Board is to have their office in the State Capitol building in Carson City. The Commissioners, to be clothed with judicial authority, shall have power to establish rates of fare and passage, examine books of transportation companies, etc. The penalty for failure to conform to rates established by the Board shall be a fine not to exceed $2,000, or imprisonment in a county jail for a term not exceeding one year.

The Comptroller of the Currency has called upon the National Banks for a statement of their condition as it existed at the close of business on the 30th of December, 1881. There are about a dozen National Banks in California, besides nearly as many more in Nevada, Oregon and Washington Territory.

President Arthur has withdrawn the nomination of J. F. Olmstead as Commissioner of the District of Columbia. The newspaper attacks upon Olmstead were so severe that he was compelled to decline.

The San Francisco Chronicle has entered upon a new volume, which event it signals by donning a new suit of types throughout. The Chronicle maintains its rank as a first-class journal.

George C. Gorham still holds the Mahone-Riddleberger card, and with it expects to be elected Secretary of the Senate after March 4.

A CHEAP WAY.

The Eureka Sentinel says:

The present State Constitution of Nevada should be amended. The necessity is urgent. There should be no delay in determining what is to be done in the matter. The method of revising the Constitution should be taken under consideration at once. The Legislature should discuss now before the jam comes and while there is ample leisure for deliberation, whether it will be more expedient to have the revising done in convention or by legislative amendments submitted to the people for approval. The Eureka Sentinel has had no doubt but the best way of revision is by a Constitutional Convention. Men to do this work should be chosen with reference to their qualifications for it; and while engaged upon it their minds should be occupied with no other public duty. This proposition hardly anybody will deny. The Legislature now in session was elected without any regard whatever to the contingency of having this great and delicate work to do. The only objection that has been, or can be, urged against the holding of a Constitutional Convention in the expense that it would involve, which, in the present condition of our State finances, might be too heavy a burden to bear. The cost of the convention has been variously estimated from $50,000 to an amount almost fabulous when practically considered. After considerable reflection in the premises the Sentinel has become satisfied that a Constitutional Convention need not cost more than $5,000. This amount, when compared with the great advantages to be derived from a revision of the Constitution in the only safe and proper way, is insignificant, let Nevada be ever so poor. What need is there for a great number of revisers? Ten or fifteen delegates can do the work required in about two weeks, as well as, if not better, than fifty. The old Constitution could be taken as a basis. Simply amend those portions requiring amendment, and then submit the whole thing for ratification. The systems relating to both State and county governments should be remodeled, simplified and cheapened. Our State is then, and could and should be, made a model of cheap government. Fewer officers and more work for those retained. The recent registration of voters could be made applicable to the election of delegates to a Constitutional Convention and the new Constitution could be submitted to the voters for ratification at a general election without additional expense. If the present high pressure system is ever to be changed, it is time to commence.

If, however, the Sentinel is wrong in its views with regard to a Constitutional Convention, then suitable amendments looking to the ends suggested should be framed and put in course of adoption by the present Legislature. One of the two things should be done immediately.

Sunset Route.

The last spike to be driven in the construction of the through railroad to New Orleans from San Francisco, to be known as the "Sunset Route," was driven home to its bed in the sleeper between eleven o'clock and noon last Friday. The event occurred in the southwestern part of Texas, nearly four hundred and ninety miles from the bridge across the river at El Paso, at a point not far from a small stream called Devil's River, a tributary of the Rio Grande, and on the line of the road near where the latter river makes its greatest bend. The spike—the spike that is now famous—was a very ordinary looking affair, it is said, of commonplace stout wrought iron, and is calculated to hold only just its own—as just as much and no more than the million of other spikes that have been driven since the building of the road began. It was sent into its place by a sledge in the hands of a workman. All the employees of the two construction trains, and some strangers recently arrived, saw the spike driven. Through travel over the new Sunset Route will begin the latter part of this month, as soon as rolling stock can be transferred and the numerous employees properly stationed along the line. The new road, as perhaps is known, leaves the main line of the Southern Pacific Road at Deming, N. M., and runs to El Paso, Texas, where the Rio Grande is crossed. From thence it runs south, easterly, nearly due east, across Texas to San Antonio, and connecting at that point with the line known as the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio, runs to Houston. From there it connects with the former Texas and New Orleans Roads, and terminates at the southern metropolis, skirting in its way from Houston the Gulf Coast, and crossing innumerable rivers and small streams tributary to the Gulf.

In the course of a conversation Saturday, having reference to the recent decision of Attorney General Brewster and his construction of the Chinese bill allowing Chinamen to pass through the United States on their way from Cuba, Representative Page said: "I hope the first ones that attempt to come by the overland route will be restricted until the matter can be taken before the courts. I am satisfied no court in the world will decide that under the law they can travel across the country by rail without having to take out their passports, as provided in this law. I hope the decision of the Attorney General will be contested thoroughly. I consider it an outrage. It was very well understood when the bill was under consideration that this privilege would not be granted."

Gala Day at Reno.

The Silver State says: "Reno reveled in happiness Saturday. The whole State Government, including both Houses of the Legislature, was there by special invitation. A train fitted up expressly for the occasion took the heads and tails of the several Departments to the 'Cradle of Reform,' and many of the unsophisticated ranchers on the Truckee Meadows, who saw the imposing cortege move into the city, imagined that the unanswered arguments of the local press, in favor of removing the State Capital, had prevailed, and that the seat of government had been permanently removed to the banks of the Truckee. These high hopes were dissipated when the State officers and members of the Legislature, marshaled in procession, were conducted to the Insane Asylum, as the impression then became general that the whole body had been committed for insanity. They were received in a manner becoming to their dignity, and hospitably entertained at the Asylum, which they thoroughly inspected, and, according to reports, marveled much that such a building, in this age of rings, could be erected and furnished for $63,000. It was suggested that the Legislature convene in regular session in the spacious reception rooms of the Asylum, and pass an Act removing the Capital to Reno, but the Ormsby members objected to that, as they do to all popular measures, and the suggestion was not carried into effect. The saloons supplied the visitors with liquid refreshments superior to those procurable at Carson, and every possible effort was made to please them, and it is possible that the visit may result in transferring the seat of government, or at least in removing the State Prison, to the town by the Truckee, where, it is claimed, the prison labor can be made more profitable than at its present location."

THE STATE PRISON.

Warden Garrard's Report in Full.

The last session of the Legislature appropriated for expenses of the State Prison, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, and for the shoe shop the sum of sixty thousand dollars.

The amount appropriated for current expenses was $11,107 11 less than the actual expenses of 1879 and 1890, yet I am happy to say I have no deficiency to report.

Not only this, but I have turned back into the State Treasury the sum of $2,626 04, having reduced the expenses of the Prison $13,733 14 below the cost of the last term. Of this sum $4,431 32 has been saved from salaries alone.

It is due to General Batterman to say that the greater cost of his administration is owing mainly to the erection of water works and other substantial improvements, and having to provide for an average of thirteen more prisoners.

The expenses of 1881 were $53,366 44, while those of 1881 were but $45,169 29.

The difference in the expenses of the two years was caused by having to finish certain improvements then under way, the roofing and repainting of several buildings, the purchase of a full set of new arms, the purchase and exchange of horses and wagons, the erection of some new buildings, and many other sources of expense not required in my second year. The Prison is now in good repair, and is amply sufficient to keep at least one hundred and fifty prisoners—a number that is not likely to be exceeded for many years to come.

I would suggest, however, that an appropriation of $100,000 be again made, as emergencies might arise requiring that amount.

The following table shows the cost of feeding, clothing and guarding each prisoner per day under the past and present administration:

	1881-2.	1879-80.
Commissary stores	$27.73	$27.85
Salaries, arms & ammunition	6 32.02	0 37.78
Fuel and lights	0 04.54	0 04.54
Clothing and bedding	0 02.71	0 02.68
Total	$34.60	$72.35

The discipline of the Prison has been entirely satisfactory. The great law of kindness has been the foundation of my discipline, but I have not hesitated to inflict prompt punishment for any willful infraction of the rules, and severe punishment where the act was vicious or insubordinate.

No break or combination to break has been attempted during my administration. The health of the convicts has been remarkable, there not having been a death during my term.

There have been four escapes (trusties), all of whom were captured and returned to the Prison in a few days. These escapes will be prosecuted at the next term of the Ormsby county District Court and will no doubt receive just punishment.

General Batterman delivered me 138 prisoners, and the number soon increased to 142. Since then there has been a gradual decrease to 113, two of whom are females.

Owing to the peculiar character of our Prison, the cost of guarding is not at all in proportion to the number of prisoners. The banks of the stone quarry constitute the walls of the Prison, and in blasting down these walls for stone it must often happen that the prisoners can walk out if not prevented by the guard; nor can permanent walls ever be constructed so long as the quarry is in use.

Hence, it would require the same number of guards for seventy-five convicts that it does for 150. For these reasons, the guarding of the prisoners must continue to be, as it has been in the past, the greatest expense in maintaining the State Prison, even if the number of prisoners is materially reduced.

In obedience to a resolution passed by the last session of the Legislature, I furnished the labor of convicts necessary to construct a reservoir and ditch to convey water to the last resting place of the veterans of the Mexican and late civil wars. To accomplish this work required 522 days' labor, 156 trips of the prison team, and the employment of an extra guard for some four months.

SHOE SHOP.

During the last term of my predecessor the price of all boots and shoes was reduced 15 1/2 per cent. This reduction absolutely represented about all the profits of the business. And although owing to the superior skill of my foreman, Mr. Burlington, the value of the work has been greatly enhanced, I have found it impossible to restore the former price. When I took charge of the Prison I found a very large amount of debts due the State for goods sold by my predecessors.

As I felt that I could not devote proper attention to their collection without neglecting my duties here, I requested the Board of State Prison Commissioners to take charge of and collect them. This they readily assented to, and I delivered to them bills representing over $28,500. Nearly two years were devoted to the subject by Attorney General Murphy, and he collected but $2,446, at an expense of $451 50. The present outstanding indebtedness (and by whom created) is shown by the following table:

Hyman	$7,531 87
Batterman	19,404 91
Garrard	6,627 88

Of the above debt of $3,627 83 created by me, $4,030 05 is not yet due, leaving but $2,597 78 due and uncollected, and of this amount all but $600 is as good as cash. Thus, out of total sales of $57,543 96, but little over one per cent. will be lost to the State on account of bad debts—a showing that cannot be made by any merchant in the State:

To bring about this high standard of purchasers, I have had to make nearly a total change of customers.

It is proper to add that I consider the above debts, amounting to $28,786 43, created under previous administrations, as nearly worthless.

The profits of the shoe shop, as shown by Exhibit B are $1,995 86, with probably $600 bad debts—showing, I think, that will never be surpassed during the present depressed condition of business in our State.

Of the $60,000 appropriated for the shoe shop, I have drawn $49,794 45, leaving $10,205 55 unexpended.

I have paid into the State Treasury on account of sales of boots and shoes, $55,836 69, besides furnishing all the shoes and boots worn by the convicts and given to discharged prisoners.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

During my term the ministers of the gospel residing in Carson alternate in holding religious services on Sundays at the prison, usually accompanied by the choir of their churches, and often on holidays they have given pleasant musical entertainments and recitations. These kind attentions have a good effect upon these outcasts of society.

The only reformation to be looked for in a prison is the personal elevation of the convict in his own estimation, and I know of nothing that is more likely to aid him in this direction than to have good people so act as to convince him that they think him worthy of their kind attention.

My thanks and the thanks of the community are due to these good people for their efforts to infuse into these castaways a higher sense of their worth, and to lead them to a juster appreciation of their rights and duties as citizens.

My relations with the members of the Board of State Prison Commissioners during my entire administration have been of the most pleasant character. To my officers and guards I am indebted for their hearty co-operation in all matters affecting the interests of the State.

To the skill of Doctors Fox and Lee, and their suggestions of sanitary measures, I attribute the extraordinary exemption from serious sickness the convicts have enjoyed since the commencement of my administration.

I call your attention to the report of Dr. Fox, the Prison Physician. I ask the Legislature to provide by law for the removal of insane convicts from the State Prison to the Insane Asylum and their return after being restored to reason.

PREHISTORIC FOOT-PRINTS.

I cannot close this report without calling your attention to the wonderful discovery of fossil foot-prints, that has been made on the floor of the State Prison quarry during my administration. Here we find the tracks of the elephant, the deer, the wolf, and of many birds, but the most wonderful of all, the tracks of man, or rather of many men, covered by from twelve to thirty-four feet of sandstone, supposed to belong to the Pliocene age. The attention of scientific men has been called to this important find, and the subject today is attracting the attention of the scientific world.

Very respectfully,

WILLIAM GARRARD,
Warden.

To Consumptives.

"Golden Medical Discovery" is a concentrated, potent alternative, or blood-cleansing remedy, that wins golden opinions from all who use it for any humor, from the common pimple, blotch or eruption, to the formidable scrofulous swelling or ulcer. Internal fever, soreness and ulceration, yield to its benign influences. Consumption, which is such a scrofulous affection of the lungs, may, in its early stages, be cured by a fee use of this God-given remedy. See article on consumption and its treatment in Part III of the World's Dispensary Dime Series of pamphlets, costs two stamps, post-paid. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 50c. a box everywhere.

The purity and elegant perfume of Parker's Hair Balsam explain the popularity of this reliable restorative.

COUNTY AFFAIRS.

Matters of Interest Brought Out at Last Night's Meeting.

There was a good crowd out at the taxpayers' meeting last night, and all were deeply interested in the proceedings. Mr. Beck, the Chairman, congratulated all present upon the turn affairs were taking. Mr. Leete submitted figures showing that under the fee system the Sheriff of this county received $8,769 62 annually, while under the salary system he cost $2,835 96; the Clerk under the fee was $8,488 67 while under the salary the county received $151 90 net. The Assessor's office in 1882 cost $2,860 37; Commissioners $1,800; Grand Jury $618 10; Trial Jurors, $2,642 90; examining insane $75; hospital $3,950 43; incidental court house expenses were $1,753 97; court house fence, $2,696 30; jailor and jail, $6,973 49; Clerk's office, $3,702 25; Treasurer, $2,157 21; Auditor, $2,550 25; Public Roads, $10,057 87, of which Reno road district cost $1,562 02; Schools, $14,748 50; Constable, Reno, $1,898 77; Justice, Reno, $1,877 55. Both Mr. Leete and Mr. Beck argued in favor of the annexed salaries: Sheriff, $150 per month; Clerk, $125; Auditor, $125; Assessor, $100, with $400 annually for deputies; Treasurer, $125 per month. Meeting adjourned until next Wednesday evening.

No More Free Board.

The Board of Commissioners for the care of the Insane have passed an order that, with the exception of the family of the Superintendent, the wife or family of any Asylum employee shall not be provided with commissary stores at the State's expense. A bill will be introduced in the Legislature covering the same thing for the Prison.

Soda Factory Burned.

Jose's Soda Factory was partially destroyed by fire last evening at 8 o'clock. The machinery was saved, and the damage therefore but slight, as the water was got on as soon as possible and the wooden shanty was not entirely destroyed. The fire was caused by a defective stovepipe.

A Delicious Appetiser.

That ensures digestion and enjoyment of food; a tonic that brings strength to the weak and rest to the nervous; a harmless diarrhoea cure that don't constipate—just what every family needs—Parker's Ginger Tonic.
